CONEY ISLANDERS FOR AN OCEAN SIDE FERRY

encourages you to attend an upcoming meeting hosted by the Brooklyn Community Board 13 Environment & Sanitation Committee with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to talk about the possibility of getting the Coney Island Creek cleaned up under the Federal Superfund program.

Coney Island is an Environmental Justice community. Cleaning the creek would be a step towards undoing generations of environmental damage and neglect suffered by the community. The EPA's website states that the goal of Environmental Justice will be achieved when everyone (regardless of race, color, national origin, or income) can enjoy:

- The same degree of protection from environmental and health hazards, and
- Equal access to the decision-making process to have a healthy environment in which to live, learn, and work.

If the EPA doesn't designate the Coney Island Creek a Superfund site, both your health and the environment are at risk.

What kind of a creek do you want to leave our children? And their children? What kind of creek does our community deserve?

Please come to the meeting and tell the EPA to #superfundthecreek NOW!

Help us spread the word to your friends and neighbors too. This is a public meeting. Anyone can attend.
